Synopsis Books:

A compendium of deeply engaging North American travel and place-based pieces, Blue Collar Nomad explores gritty urban areas, eclectic towns, and isolated geographical landscapes, introducing a cast of unique marginalized local characters along the way.

These atmospheric narratives blend genuine working class ethics, rhythmic intuitive prose, and a natural spirituality in order to transport the reader deep into various localities and communities in the United States and Canada; this includes delving into musical and literary subcultures.

The author sponsored his 12-year trek across the land by working as a farmhand, natural chef, organic gardener, bartender, landscape artist, writing instructor, and mentor to at-risk youth. As a whole, this collection of travel essays encourages the reader to be with the land and its people in order to deeply feel the world.

*Blue Collar Nomad was sustainably produced in the U.S.A. by a small West Coast offset printing collective on 100% post-consumer recycled paper with plant-based inks and non-animal glue.

There is a musical soundtrack for this book, Wandering, composed by pianist Matthew Tavis Johnson. Each of the 14 musical compositions were inspired by a different narrative from the book. The Book/Cd combination was a special release and can only be ordered directly from the publisher Nomadic Devotion Books at <http://www.nomadicdevotionbooks.com/s...>

"Blue Collar Nomad is a serene collection of meditations on self, time, and place in the 21st century American landscape. Evoking the spiritual quests of Jon Krakauer, Jack Kerouac, and Henry David Thoreau, this collection of narratives affirms ones faith in the power of language to root and restore a world of one. For anyone searching for the Church of the Blue Sky, reading Jake Kaida is a must."

Nancy Grace, Author of Jack Kerouac and the Literary Imagination
